TRAFALGAR CASTLE SCHOOL

SCHOOL SONG

Dear Old Trafalgar
Hear thou our hymn of praise.
Hearts full of love we raise proudly to thee.
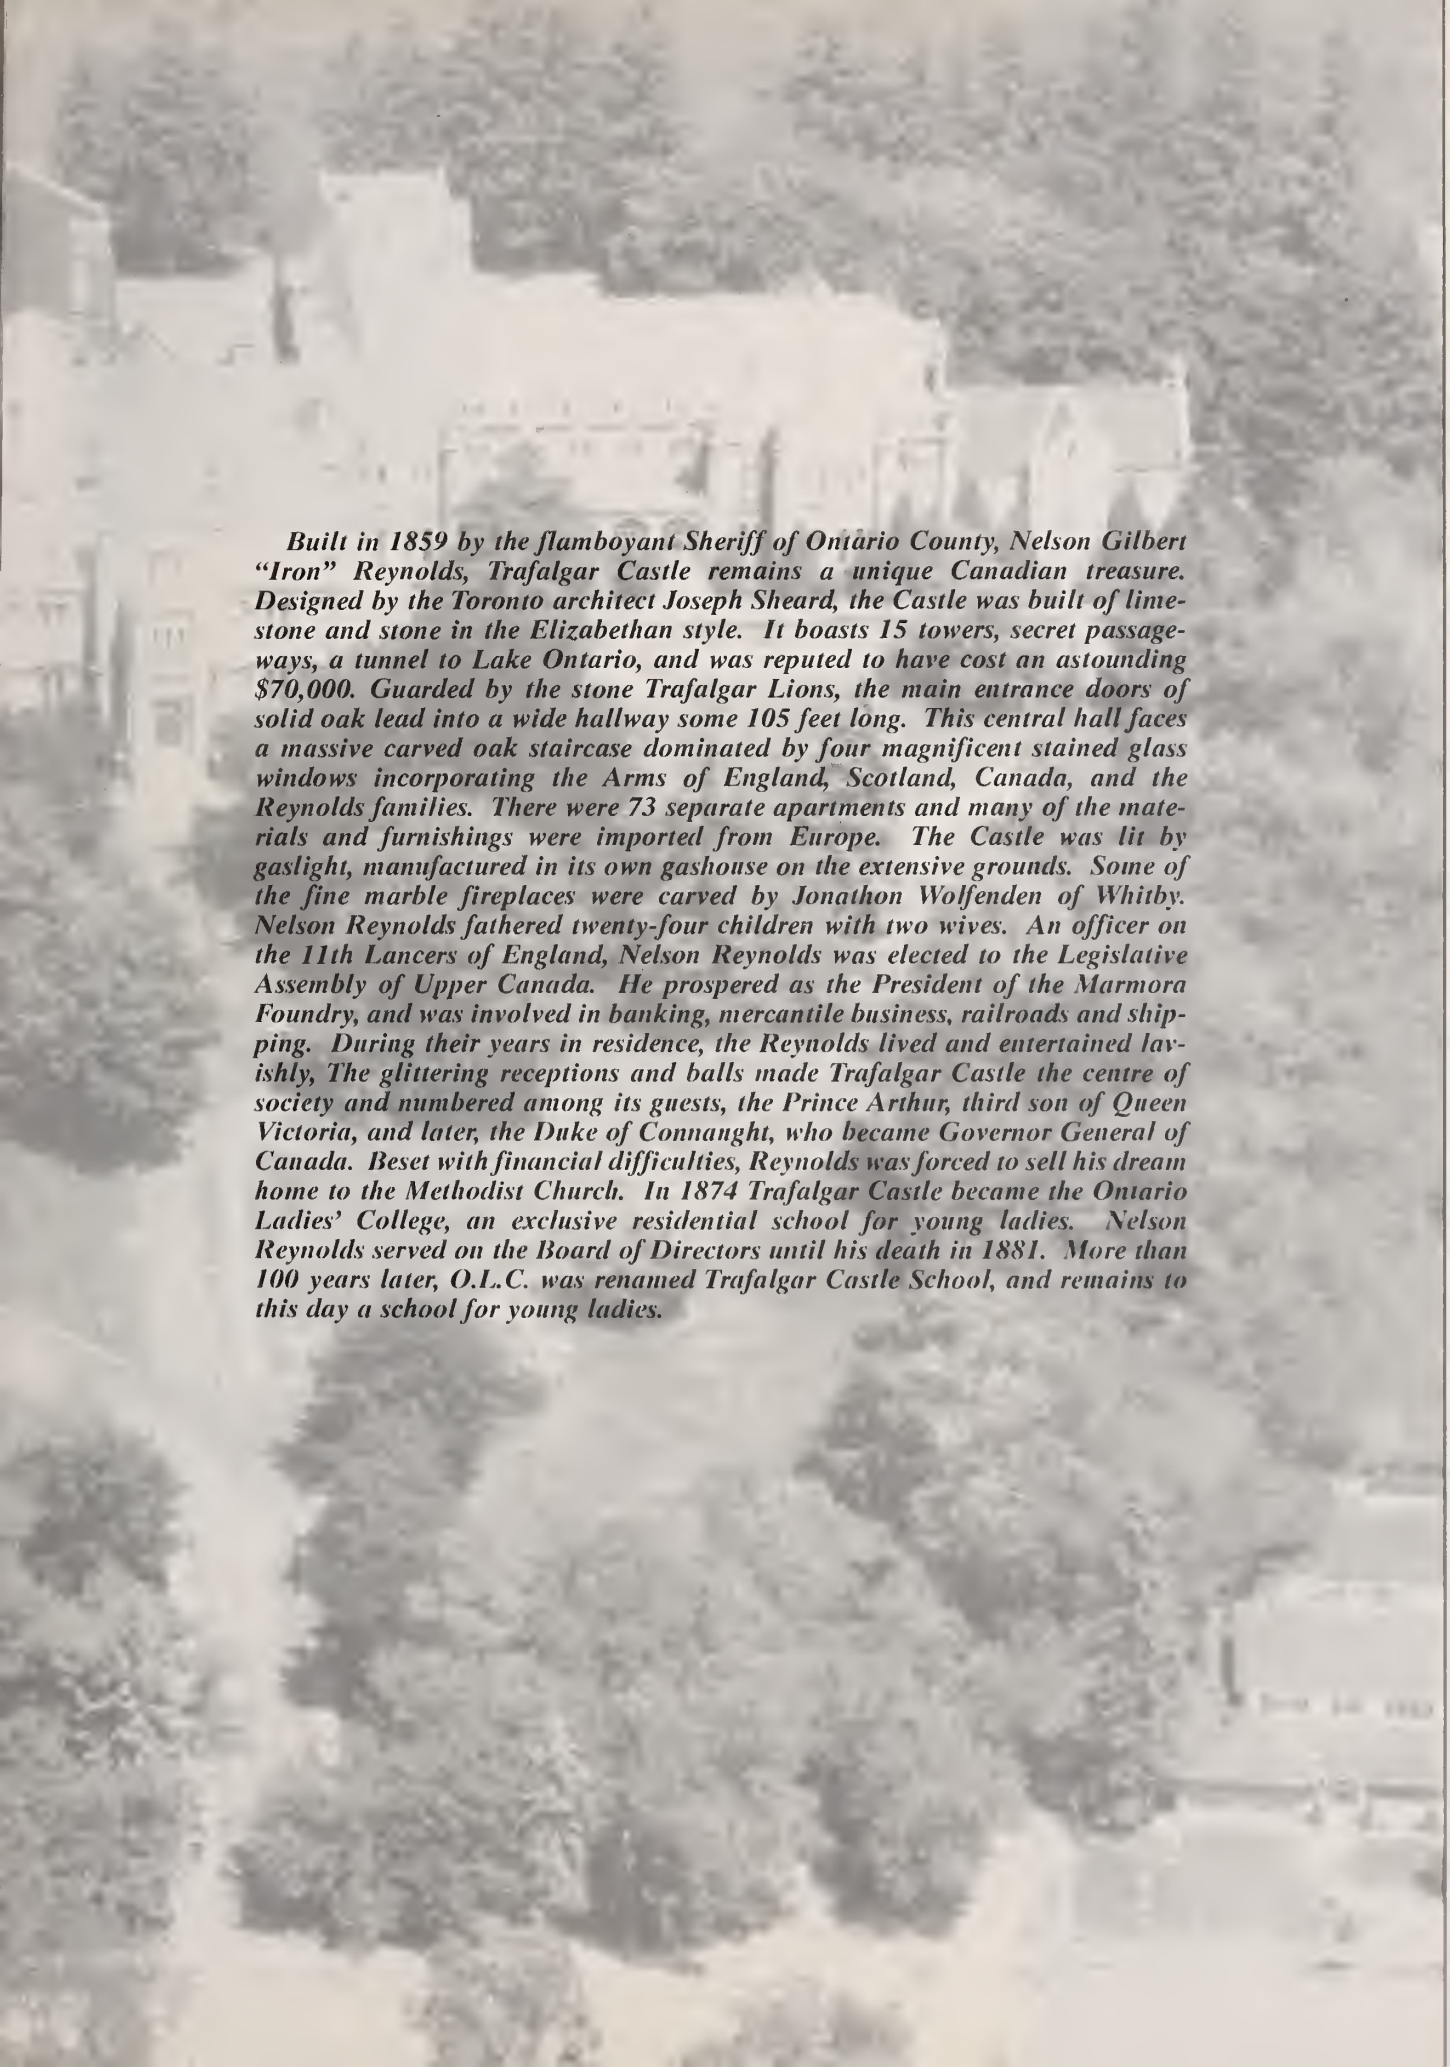
Thy splendour never falls,
Truth dwells within thy walls,
Thy beauty still enthralls
Dear Trafalgar.

Through thee we honour
Truth, virtue, loveliness.
Thy friendships e'er possess
Our constancy.
Thy spirit fills us through,
So we'll be ever true
To our dear blue and blue
of Trafalgar.

O! Alma Mater:
How can we from thee part?
Thou only hast our heart,
Dearest of schools.
Thy glory we shall see
Wherever we may be,
Still love of Trafalgar
Our future rules.



SCHOOL HISTORY

Built in 1859 by the flamboyant Sheriff of Ontario County, Nelson Gilbert "Iron" Reynolds, Trafalgar Castle remains a unique Canadian treasure. Designed by the Toronto architect Joseph Sheard, the Castle was built of limestone and stone in the Elizabethan style. It boasts 15 towers, secret passageways, a tunnel to Lake Ontario, and was reputed to have cost an astounding $70,000. Guarded by the stone Trafalgar Lions, the main entrance doors of solid oak lead into a wide hallway some 105 feet long. This central hall faces a massive carved oak staircase dominated by four magnificent stained glass windows incorporating the Arms of England, Scotland, Canada, and the Reynolds families. There were 73 separate apartments and many of the materials and furnishings were imported from Europe. The Castle was lit by gaslight, manufactured in its own gashouse on the extensive grounds. Some of the fine marble fireplaces were carved by Jonathon Wolfenden of Whitby. Nelson Reynolds fathered twenty-four children with two wives. An officer on the 11th Lancers of England, Nelson Reynolds was elected to the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada. He prospered as the President of the Marmora Foundry, and was involved in banking, mercantile business, railroads and shipping. During their years in residence, the Reynolds lived and entertained lavishly, The glittering receptions and balls made Trafalgar Castle the centre of society and numbered among its guests, the Prince Arthur, third son of Queen Victoria, and later, the Duke of Connaught, who became Governor General of Canada. Beset with financial difficulties, Reynolds was forced to sell his dream home to the Methodist Church. In 1874 Trafalgar Castle became the Ontario Ladies' College, an exclusive residential school for young ladies. Nelson Reynolds served on the Board of Directors until his death in 1881. More than 100 years later, O.L.C. was renamed Trafalgar Castle School, and remains to this day a school for young ladies.

How important are anniversaries? In a minor sort of way we have been recognizing our 120th during the past school year. Most of the students have at one time or another been given one of our celebratory buttons to wear. Our May Day this year was built around the theme of celebrating traditions. Certainly, after 120 years, we have lots of traditions to recognize.

One of our great traditions, of course, is the publication of this yearbook. I am not certain how far the Vox Collegii goes back - certainly not 120 years. However, it did exist at the beginning of this century. In one way or another we have been keeping a record of what happens here at the school since our first year way back in 1874. In 1974 a history of the school was published and it is the hope of the Parents' Guild to publish an update of that history on our 125th.

Keeping records is very important. We cannot really understand ourselves if we do not comprehend where we come from. This is why the yearbook is so very necessary in the life of the school.

In earlier editions the yearbook included, along with accounts of the school events and citizens, some literary efforts of the students. Today we employ the Castle Signatures literary magazine for our artistic expressions. This leaves more space in Vox Collegii for the important work, keeping the record.

Once again Karen Yung and her hard working staff are to be congratulated for working diligently to collect the data, take the pictures and push people like me for the necessary articles that enabled them to compile such a first class edition of the yearbook. Well done!

A yearbook is a wonderful thing! Inside its covers it contains a pictorial record of 10 months of a school's life. This record lives on for years and years, waiting for someone to open it! And when this happens memories of friends, experiences, feelings, triumphs and tribulations come flooding back for the reader. To think that a simple hardcover book can be so timeless and powerful is really amazing.

I hope that this yearbook will do all of the above for you. Your experiences over one or more years at Trafalgar Castle School are many and they are all locked away somewhere in the grey matter of your brain. As this yearbook's contents unlock those memories I trust that you will remember all that you have experienced and learned within the walls of Trafalgar Castle School. Use all that you have learned in your future endeavours and always strive for excellence!

Graduates, you have completed a major chapter in your life-long learning. A new and exciting chapter lies ahead of you! Some of you will find yourselves in college or university. Other will be in the working world. I would like to pass on one thought to you and encourage you to tuck it away in the back of your mind and remember it as you pursue your future goals. The thought is this. In your immediate future after Trafalgar Castle School strive to find your bliss and then follow it! Your bliss will be that vocation or activity which brings you the most happiness and joy. When you find it you will know it! When you have found it, follow it! I wish each of you success in this endeavour.

Finally, I would like to commend the yearbook staff and Mrs. Pollitt for all their time and effort in preparing this yearbook. Their work is very much behind-the-scenes but is essential to the success of the book.

Yours sincerely,

MR. McCLURE

VICE - PRINCIPAL

As I reflect on the events of the past ten months, I marvel at the courage and the resilience of so many girls.

It is not easy to travel many (or even just a few) miles from home to attend school in a small town in Ontario, Canada. After all, home is home, home is everything familiar, and as soon as a student takes that first step away from home, she enters a whole new and challenging world.

What impresses me year after year is how so many girls from so many countries create a home for themselves within Trafalgar's walls. And when the school year ends, for many students, it is as difficult to say goodbye to all of us at Trafalgar as it was to say goodbye to their families when the year began.

Most of you have heard my stories about my mountain climbing experience in Africa. It was, physically, the most challenging thing I have ever done, and the lessons of that experience still inspire me today. I would like to pass these lessons on to you.

Firstly, I learned, as I slipped along the shale, that my negative thoughts ("I don't think I can, I don't think I can.") were self-defeating, and they had a powerfully adverse effect not only on my own state of mind but also on the minds of those around me. Therefore, think positively, no matter how difficult the task.

Secondly, I learned that by concentrating, even if just for a little while, on someone else's problem, my own problem became less formidable. It takes teamwork (relying on someone else, letting someone else rely on you) to get to the top of the mountain. Therefore, be generous and help others reach their destinations too, instead of thinking always only of your own.

Thirdly, I learned that by taking small steps instead of big leaps, I could still reach my goal. By climbing from one plateau to another, I was able to move steadily onward, resting now and then to reflect on my progress and on how pleasant were my surroundings. Therefore, go slowly. Every step towards your goal is a triumph in itself.

And lastly, I learned that the achievement of reaching the summit of Mount Kenya was ever so much more rewarding and ever so much sweeter because I reached it by conquering something within me...my fear and self-doubts. Therefore, push through the barricades of your own fears and doubts, and you will succeed.

I have seen many girls at Trafalgar climb their own mountains and make it to the top! A girl so homesick when she first came here that she didn't stop crying for weeks eventually became our May Queen and a wonderful ambassador for our school. A student who last year was lapped more than once in the long distance run on Track and Field Day, this year crossed the line in the top three. Five students from Hong Kong who were so shy as to be barely heard in their own language let alone English, stood together one day in Chapel and led the service. Such mountains to climb! Such determination! Such achievements!

In the years to come, you will meet many obstacles in your path. There will be plateaus as you travel towards your goals when you will be able to look out across the horizon and wonder at its beauty, and look down at the valley below and see how far you have come. Seek your strength from within you, move steadily forwards, and never, ever give up.

I consider it a privilege to have lived among you all this year. I wish you well and God speed.

HEAD GIRL'S MESSAGE

Meghan Kamcke

Meghan Kamcke

I find it hard to believe that it is already time for me to be writing a yearbook message and that there are only a few weeks remaining in my high school career. I entered Trafalgar for the first time as a student seven years ago, but I had dreamt about it for many years prior to that. Trafalgar has made me the person I am today. It has taught me confidence and leadership. It has given me the gift of friendship and the ability to tolerate others. These are values that will be a part of me for the rest of my life and I have Trafalgar to thank.

I have come to love Trafalgar. For me it is more than a school, it is a home. For some girls it takes longer to feel deeply about the school, but I think that eventually everyone grows to love Trafalgar, even if it's after they have left. One can see this at any event such as the Bazaar or May Day when so many old girls return with fond memories of the wonderful times they had here.

There are so many people who should be thanked for making Trafalgar the exceptional school it is. Everyone who is part of the school adds to its success in some form. No matter how small or large a role you play, it is important in its own way. Everyone helps make Trafalgar unique. There is no other school that cares about its students the way Trafalgar does. It gives us so much and we have everyone to thank for that.

I want to wish the graduates the best of luck in the future. I hope that you all find happiness whether it is through university, work or marriage. I know that you all have a wonderful chance at succeeding because of the the values that Trafalgar has taught you. I hope that you put these to good use. To the students we are leaving behind, I wish you the best of luck as well, but more importantly I hope that you make the most of your time here because before you know it, it will be all over and it will be your turn to graduate. Thank you once again, I will miss everyone. Good Luck.

GAP STUDENT'S MESSAGE

Melanie Rule

Melanie Rule

The day before I left England I was told that I would be met at Toronto by Miss Roberts "with blond hair". Thinking this to be very non-descript - I wondered what sort of school I was entering. Within a couple of days I found out Miss R was naturally dark haired! My confusion thus ended.

My year at Trafalgar has been a happy one, full of wonderful experiences. I've learnt a lot about myself and other people. I cannot think a place that I would rather have been this gap year from skiing in British Columbia to volunteer work in Jamaica - I've met so many interesting people on my travels.

To Mrs. Mulhall and Miss Roberts for being my substitute mothers this year - for looking after me and Mrs. Jackson for constantly making fun of me and my in-need-of-repair sweater. To all the staff who have all helped me at some point this year and to Irene Talent for all the office work that I never minded doing. Never have I seen such a band of dedicated (or hungry - Mrs Murphy!) teachers.

To Montse - for her cigarettes-unique clothing-radio-popcorn- "sometimes you just don't get mail pal" and inquisity. To Angela Susana and Robyn - for evenings of fun - Melrose Place and exercises. To Caryn - for our Sunday talks of 4 hrs. To Kavita for Lenny Kravitz and subs. To Alana (for French class). Martha, Joanna and many others for the various laughs and parties.

To the whole of Upper Frances for the grief and laughs they gave me every Tuesday night since September.

I've had a fantastic year-all I can say now is "thank you" - "good luck" and "goodbye".

"I WANT TO GO TO BED NOW!!!"

EDITORIAL

I can not believe that I have already spent one year making the weekly announcement, "There will be a year book meeting today after school". When I walked to upper main and entered the yearbook room the other day, I remembered the times that I had with Mrs. Pollitt and all my hard-working staff. At the beginning of the year, we all faced many challenges but after a while everything seemed to come together well. I can say that the yearbook could not have been done without the help of everyone on the yearbook committee. Thank you to all who participated and contributed, especially Mrs. Pollitt who taught me a lot throughout the year. Also, a special thanks to Peggy, Michele and Ivy who helped me to finish most of the pages at the last minute. Thanks to Mr. Kamcke too, who gave me the opportunity to be an editor. I really enjoyed this work and I did learn from my mistakes. Finally, I would like to wish you all wonderful memories from '93-'94.

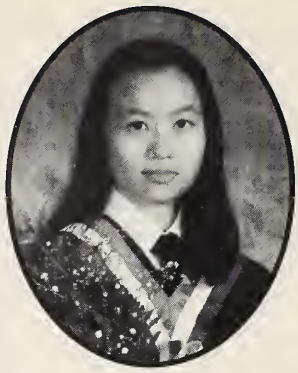
Special thanks to Mrs. Murphy for extra help, patience and her short cut method for solving tedious questions. Thanks to all my friends, especially Samantha, who was an excellent room-mate. I will never forget the time that we gossiped until four o'clock and had to finish a calculus assignment which was due the next day. Thanks to Janice who encouraged me to lose the extra weight that I had gained from eating desserts.



WINNIE SIU

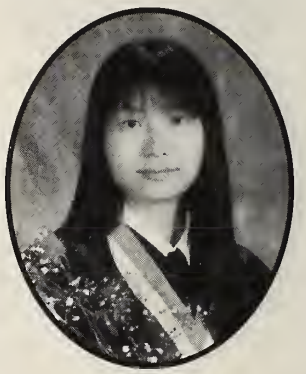
Hare House
Years at Trafalgar: One
Message: "There is nothing worth the wear of winning, but the laughter and the love of friends." It has been an unforgettable year at Trafalgar. I have to say thank you with all my heart to my teachers, housemother and friends. To one friend, badminton? I'll never disappoint you because we have a good pace. To another friend, remember the "t", "k", "st", "ed" sounds in the songs? Don't always eat milk with cornflakes. Try something new, try orange juice with cornflakes, it's delicious?!

SONYA SULTAN-KHAN

Farewell House
Years at Trafalgar: Four
Positions/Activities: Sub-captain and captain of Farewell House, May Court, Athletic Association, Student Council, Drama, Debating, Piano.
Message: Fondest memories: Spares with Sharron and Kavita; jokes I never understood; Raff, Lindsay, Margaret Pak and Amy Hickey; the Losers Club with Martha and Montse. Thanks to all my dearest friends, especially Julie, Steph and Alana, for making my years at Trafalgar most memorable. Special thanks to Mrs. Murphy, Mme Bagnall, and Mrs. Large for being there and motivating me. And to the two people I love, admire and respect: Mom and Dad. Thank you for the opportunity, your support and unconditional love. Thank you Trafalgar for an unforgettable experience.

JANICE TAM

Carter House
Years at Trafalgar: One
Message: I would like to thank my parents for giving me the opportunity of spending this memorable year at Trafalgar. Although I have been a boarder here for only one year, I have a lot of precious memories which I will never forget - the Easter eggs of Mrs. K., the free ride from Mrs. Metselaar ... Special thanks to all the teachers for their guidance, help and patience. Special thanks to all my friends, particularly Samantha, who is willing to share all my sorrows and Florence, who goes on diets and shopping adventures with me.



PATRICIA TANG

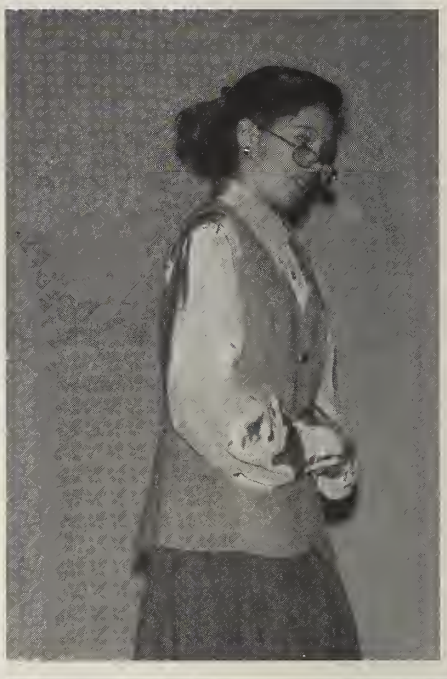
SPIRIT

At right Aiko Toyama takes out the garbage, does her laundry and still manages to find time to do some casual reading. Below Carter House's spirit machine, complete with mascots, makes its debut at Activity Day in September.



Upper right Tara Scanlan portrays a teacher in the grade nine Christmas play at Christmas Dinner. At right Marilyn Broughton, Sylvia Mbekeani and Aiko Toyama enjoy tea and conversation at the grad tea. Marilyn is a member of the board of directors, an old girl of Trafalgar Castle School and she and her husband, Richard, were the first couple to be married in Grace Chapel. Below Sylvia Mbekeani, Susan Liu and Susana Landa join in the daisy chain procession on Trafalgar Day.

Spirit abounds throughout the year and never is it more evident than at Hallowe'en. At left Becky Yeager and Katty Yang show us how the boarders celebrate All Hallows Eve. Below Jenn Walters has just stepped off her barge on the Nile to join in the day's festivities.

Being captain of the best house ever, HARE, has made my final year the most memorable. From spirit day, to house games and from badminton to soccer, Hare house will always "Rock you, sock you, pick you up and drop you!" After all, Hare has always been and always will be number one! I would like to thank my sub-captain Suzanne Ogilvie-King for all her support and help this year. Your constant efforts made our house number one in all our minds. We'll never forget May day practices, "She Stoops to Conquer", after school house games, house debates and trying to invent new cheers. The hardest thing I have to do this year is say goodbye to everyone who worked so hard all year to make it one of the hardest working houses ever. To next year's captain, I wish you good luck and endless patience and to all my friends H.A.R.E. : IT'S FUN TO BE IN HARE". You can always come back to the best house in town.

Dear Carter:

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways..." Each and everyone of you has made my year as captain a very, very fun and memorable one. You all helped the year go smoothly.

We all played wonderful soccer, swam like fish and played all those other sports with spirit and determination, not to mention our "classic" house play starring the "best teenage boy" and "alien" Trafalgar has ever seen. It's my pleasure to say THANKS and congratulations on a year well done.

To my honourable sub-captain, Margaret, you are my saviour, you were always there when I needed you! Good luck next year as president of AA. You will do a fabulous job, I know it!

Also to Sonya and Carrie, may the force be with you!! Carter House, one last request, please go to house games as often as you came this year! And when there is a house meeting in the concert hall, listen carefully, under Sonya's voice you may hear mine saying, "OK guys, I need people for these events...!"

Good luck to everyone next year!!

BACK ROW: Mr. McClure, Catharine Davison, Mrs. Roadhouse, Julie Green, Montserrat Prunell, Miss Rule, Mrs. Bagnall.

What an amazing year Farewell has had!! Our enthusiasm, tremendous spirit and determination to win have led us to many triumphs. We were victorious even when we were defeated because we always had a great time and a winning attitude. Our house was only successful with the incredible team effort and support of every member. From the yellow polka dot bikini to exciting house play rehearsals, to our unforgettable VICTORY on track and field day, Farewell will never be forgotten.

I'd like to thank the world's #1 sub-captain, Amy, for her friendship, support and dedication. I know you will do an amazing job next year as captain. Special thanks to all the staff, especially Madame Bagnall for all her advice and assistance.

Farewell is the generation that will rule the future. Always remember, "WE ARE FAMILY. I'VE GOT ALL MY SISTERS WITH ME!!" Thank you for a memorable and rewarding experience. I'll never forget you!

Best of luck to everyone.

All I can say is we've had quite a year, Maxwell. We obviously did something right and it's no wonder. Best production AND best director for house plays. (Don't get your toga in a knot!) First place for the swim meet, airband (We will never be able to forget our "Summer Lovin") and numerous victories in house games. However I could never have done it alone and I owe so much to my wonderful sub-captain Daphne, you're the best! As for the rest of Maxwell House, you have made your captain proud. You all worked so hard this year and accamplished so much. Our house spirit was the best I've ever seen it and your co-operation was outstanding. You all made my job a lot easier! Each and every one of you is terrific and don't let anyone tell you otherwise, especially that pushy Hare House captain. (Eh Sharron?) Good luck to the next Maxwell captains, I know you'll have as much fun as we did! Maxwell, you're the greatest!!

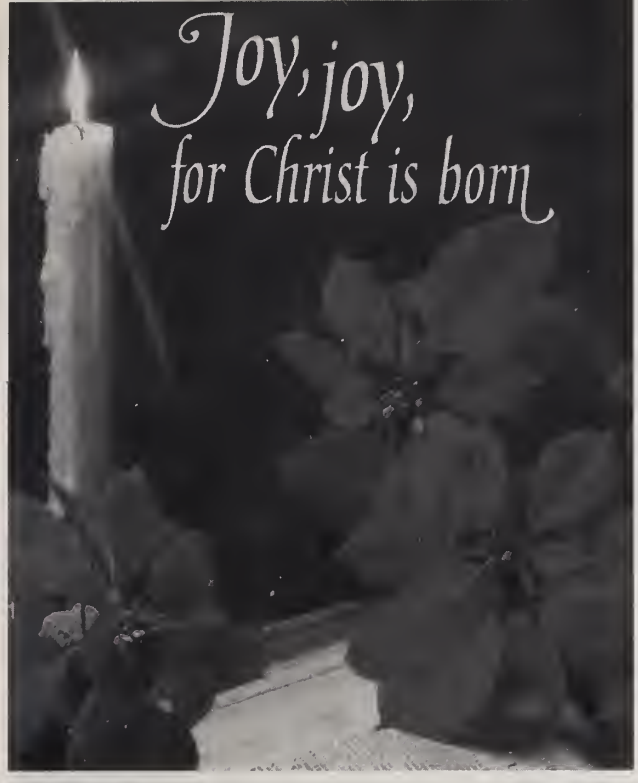
CAROL SERVICE



Stephanie Summers.

Miss Roberts.

Marietta Weber, Jane Lee and Amy Chen.

Once again, Trafalgar's annual Christmas Service was a great success. The girls, under the guidance of Mr. Southwell and Mrs. Roadhouse, and after many weeks of rehearsal, produced an excellent Carol Service. Two of the songs "There is a Star" and "Little Child of Bethlehem" were original compositions by Mr. Southwell. Presentations by the Christmas Choir, Celebration Singers and various student soloists inspired everyone to be in a festive Christmas mood by the end of the service.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Mrs. Smith, Mr. Kamcke, Miss Roberts, faculty, guests, parents, fellow students und the graduating class of 1994: I mast say I'm proud that my school is a castle and that this castle has given me memories for life. What first comes to mind when you think of a castle? Beaatifal , old architecture. Romance and tragedies. Duels fought and victories won. Knights in shining armoar. Traditions and secrets. This castle is no exception. It is hard to express in one speech the tremendous experiences had at such a place. No matter how long a person has uttended Trafalgar Castle School each one leaves with her own personal memories.

Perhaps some day we'll be listening to the radio and a familiar song will come on. Suddenly we're back at Trafalgar, kicking ap our heels and dancing to disco masic in a boarder's room. Or, maybe it will take us back to singing a favoarite hymn in chapel in oar early morning voices. Yoa can be assured that Trafalgar flashbacks will occur all throagh yoar lives, sparked by some familiar sound or sight.

It has been said that every girl leaves Trafalgar us a leuder. Now that I am gruduating. I realize how true this statement is. We are granted so many opportanities to develop leadership skills at this school; whether it be by becoming a prefect or a hoase-caption or helping to organize a special school event.

When I came to Trafalgar two years ago, I shed all inhibitions about school involvement. With such a friendly and accepting atmosphere and so many encoaraging teachers, a student feels immediate motivation to develop and the people of Trafalgar help to build confidence that will show in all our future endeuvours.

Several times while driving on the way to school this year, I realized that the people passing by on the streets must have seen me as a yoang school girl on her way to class. Little did they know that once I entered the doors to Trafalgar, a flowing cape was tied aroand my neck and a glowing red helmet was worn on my head. I became Mr. Self-Esteem and it was my duty to help other girls believe in themselves.

Sach a task is performed every day here while each student develops her personal interest, whether it be in piano lessons, a soccer practice or speaking in chapel. "Let me be myself, and then I am satisfied."

At Trafalgar, marks and academics are one facet of life. A day at this school is a basy roatine the staff and stadents are comfortable with, but an outsider would be intimidated by. We're all kept very basy here and throagh this schedule, we've learned how to cope with a heavy workload while maintaining oar academics. We've also learned the importance of being a well-roanded person. Wherever I go in life, I'll strive for academic excellence, but I'll be sure to continue acting a little, having fun a little and exercising a little, which Trafalgar has taught me the valae in doing.

Parents, I woald like to thank yoa and congratalate yoa for sending yoar daughters to sach a wonderful school as Trafalgar. By allowing as to go here, you have given us an all-roand edacational experience.

The self-confidence developed and learning skills acqaired at this school will help as lead fulfilling lives in oar fatares.

The faculty, on behalf of the graduates, I woald like to thank yoa. Yoa are the ones who pushed as to make that extra effort and strive to do oar best. With marks being so important in the edacation system today, only encouragement from the teachers and staff helped to keep everything in perspective.

I will never forget Mme Bagnall's speeches in class. I can't remember her exact words but I was definitely inspired. Or Mrs. Campbell spending almost an entire class teaching OAC Phys. Ed the proper art of writing endnotes and footnotes. Even Miss Roberts' much loved spelling tests in English class. I know we will end ap thanking her because it is the little things we will remember to help us succeed at aniversity and in life. Oar high standards coaldn't be achieved without sach positive teacher interaction and performance.

Most of all, the teachers taught as to learn not just academics but important life skills as well. After Mrs. Sigsworth chasing us down every morning we were late for chapel, I'm sare none of us will be late for another event in our lires! And with Miss Roberts' constant encouragement, I'm sure that Montse will never have an untidy room again! I would also like to commend Mr. Kamcke for his personal and dedicated administrative approach. He ensares that every school fanction takes place without any complications and his directness keeps all the girls on tusk.

I've often heard that if you like your teacher, you will learn better in class. If this is the case, I couldn't think of a better place than Trafalgar Castle to learn.

Students, the only advice that I can give you is to make the most of your time at Trafalgar. Over the past several days, all I've heard from the graduates is, " I can't believe I'm graduating. The time has gone so fast!" And it really has. It seems just yesterday when I was walking through the halls of Trafalgar on my first day as a new girl, wondering if I had bought the wrong blazer because mine was nary and everyone else seemed to be wearing a white one! But, graduation day has arrived and I have a diploma and my memories bonding me to Trafalgar.

To get the most out of your years at this school, you must be inroivred and grasp the many opportunities Trafalgar offers. Before you know it, you too will have worn your uniform for the last time.

The graduates: Here we are, all together for one last time. Tomorrow we'll be scattered all over the world with only our memories of being fellow Trafalgarites as our bond. Throughout the year we're all experienced joy and pain, but no matter what the situation, our Trafalgar friends have always been there to support and listen; go crazy with and protect. I have no doubts in saying that these are the kinds of friendships which will last a lifetime.

My OAC year has been one of the hardest, scariest, best years of my life, but it has been a rewarding one.

Think, graduates, what you're accomplished. Many of you have fulfilled roles as leaders in the school, have been a part of numerous school activities, and all the while have continued to be successful with your academics.

Think of all the different friends we're made from around the world. Whenever I travel to Venezuela, Hong Kong or La Coruna, Spain I know I'll have a good friend to visit. Such a multi-cultural school is an education in itself.

If I hadn't gone to Trafalgar I wouldn't know how to say "university" in four different languages. I also wouldn't be able to say "Les Homma!" This is a Cantonese greeting and I trust it's a polite one.

As we look at every individual person, whether staff or student, we have some memory or feeling about them. I look at Miss Roberts and I feel motivated, remembering her inspiring chapel about climbing mountains. I look at Mrs. Metselaar and remember a treacherous English ISP! I look admiringly at Mrs. Campbell and feel like going for a five-mile jog! I'm sure everyone looks at Mr. McClure and pictures him telling a joke to a group of people and being the only one to laugh at it! Mr. McClure, I appreciated your jokes!

I think of little things such as walking through the halls of Trafalgar absent-mindedly singing a song or fighting over melba toast at break. Tackling Sharron Ferdinand in the common room, or yelling out words in different languages when we had no idea what we were saying.

Leaving Trafalgar is a scary feeling; but an exciting one. We feel confident in knowing that our experiences at Trafalgar will help guide our way on our not yet travelled paths. We feel secure with the memories of unbroken friendships and a sense of freedom to be ourselves no matter where we may venture.

The graduates are looking forward to getting on with a new phase of their lives but at the same time, we trust that the guiding principles, spirit and high standards of Trafalgar will remain unchanged.

We, the graduating class of nineteen hundred and ninety-four wish to bid a very fond farewell to our Castle School.

Take Our Daughters To Work Day is an International event sponsored by Ms Magazine in the U.S. and the Coalition of Girls Schools here in Canada.

Our grade tens enjoyed this opportunity immensely and had the following things to say about it:

"I learned a great deal more than I expected about being a diabetic educator - the job really combines the work of a dietitian, nurse, teacher, pharmacist and social worker all in one!"
- Tarra Williamson

"I had so much fun with Mrs. Ferdinand, psychiatric nurse at Sunnybrook Medical Centre, that I honestly did not want to leave."
- Jacqueline Law

"To be a psychologist, I realize now takes patience and a special caring for people; listening is really important if we are to understand others."
- Winnie Ng

Chiara, (L) thoroughly enjoyed hearing the stories of the elderly residents at Baycrest, and Sarah, (R) immersed herself in the business of design at Lizy Lou Decor in Port Perry. Below is budding journalist, Pekkey, who was hosted by 'Oshawa-Whitby This Week'.

Carrie, (above) was a great favourite amongst the clients of the Bayly Medical Centre. Below you'll see how proudly Rita and Amy pose with their respective hosts, Ms. Zavrel and Ms. Bibeau.
